

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The Business Management Associate in Applied Science program is designed to prepare students for success in establishing and operating a small business enterprise. The program has been designed to empower graduates to become intelligent risk-takers by providing skills and knowledge in operating practices to successfully start and manage a small business. The economy of Maine is based, in a large part, on small businesses. Much of the economic development Maine will experience in the future will be in the area of small business. For this development to occur, a skilled workforce must be in position to envision, plans, develop, and operate small business.

Career OPPORTUNITIES

The economy of Maine is based, in a large part, on small businesses. Much of the economic development Maine will experience in the future will be in the area of small business. For this development to occur, a skilled workforce must be in position to envision, plan, develop, and operate small business. How important are small businesses to the U.S. economy?

Small businesses:

- Represent 99.7 percent of all employer firms.
- Employ half of all private sector employees.
- Pay more than 45 percent of total U.S. private payroll.
- Have generated 60 to 80 percent of net new jobs annually over the last decade.

PROGRAM OUTCOMES

- Use effective management and supervisory skills needed for working in a business environment.
- 2. Demonstrate oral and written presentation skills unique in the business community.
- 3. Use technology to analyze business problems and develop appropriate solutions.
- 4. Diagnose business and management related issues and plan future actions.
- 5. Demonstrate understanding of basic knowledge about financial institutions and investment
- 6. Use appropriate technology and critical thinking skills to assess, evaluate, and apply information in the planning, management, and operation of a small business.
- Qualify for positions in business and in positions to envision, plan, develop, and operate a small business.

These outcomes are designed to prepare students for entry-level positions in various business sectors, such as retail management, office administration, sales, marketing, and small business management. Additionally, some students may choose to continue their education by transferring to a four-year institution to pursue a bachelor's degree in business or a related field.
